

Mas de la Ferme, Villasavary LANGUEDOC

Two Gites – 1 x 3 bedrooms, 1 x 2 bedrooms

This collection of beautifully restored two-hundred-year-old farm buildings is situated just thirty minutes from Carcassonne in the heart of the Languedoc region of south-west France.

The farm buildings form three sides of a quadrangle, inside of which is a colourful garden.

One of the quadrangle's farm buildings has been completely restored and is now the fabulous setting for the swimming-pool.

The honey coloured walls of the swimming-pool enclosure with their pan-tiled tops along with the lavender and olive tree give a warm Mediterranean feel to the swimming-pool.

The four walls of the swimming-pool enclosure provide shelter from the wind and plenty of shade from the sun and is available to occupants in both gites.

The gîtes have been tastefully restored retaining the features of a two-hundred-year-old rural farm house, such as exposed beams and stone work, and yet they provide every comfort for your holiday.

Gite Un is south-west facing, with its three bedrooms sleeping up to six, looks out onto its own terrace and the garden beyond.

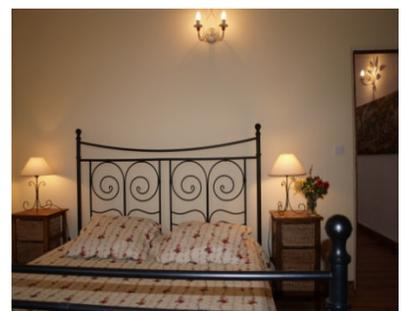

The large French windows of the west gîte and the gîte's south-facing view help create a bright and welcoming living room, which, with its stone fire place, tapestry and deep sofas provide a comfortable living space for you and your family.

The original two-hundred-year-old stairs lead from the living room to the landing. The west gîte has three bedrooms; two good sized doubles with double beds and one much smaller bedroom with bunk beds, really only suitable for children. The bathroom has a bath with a shower over, a basin & toilet.

Gite Deux is a two-bedroomed east facing gîte that sleeps four also has its own terrace. Its east side looks out onto its own garden with the woods beyond, and its south side looks out onto a small grenadine courtyard with the garden off to the side. Due its positioning, the gîte benefits from natural light from early morning to late afternoon, which can be enjoyed from its own terrace furnished with a wooden table, four wooden chairs, & large parasol.

The living and dining area of the gîte is open plan. The living area is comfortably furnished with two sofas, a low table and a stove. The dining area is furnished with an antique table and four chairs. The two-hundred-year-old staircase and its balustrade, partially divides the living area from the kitchen.

The stairs lead to a spacious and well lit landing from which lead the bathroom and bedrooms. The east gîte has two double bedrooms both with double beds and antique French furniture.
